PROGRAMME DESCRIPTION

Our 3-year BA programme offers you a great opportunity to gain a core knowledge of contemporary European politics and society within an interdependent global context.

The BA programme is ideal for students who understand that a global outlook in a localized setting is necessary to deal with contemporary challenges such as; management of diversity, EU integration and the system of international relations. You will develop the research skills to understand and diagnose contemporary challenges including methodological and problem-solving tools needed to critically analyse social and political phenomena.

This international, multilingual student body is an excellent environment to put theory into practice, as well as making friendships and connections around the world.
